

UTTARAKHAND TEMPLES

MAKE MY PLAN

Let's make it easy for you

Kedarnath Temple:

Kedarnath is a popular site for devotees and one of the many historical temples in Uttarakhand that is seen as a significant shrine for the Shaiviks. The temple is situated at a height of about 3583 meters, and from the city of Rishikesh, it is 223 km away. As per the sources, the temple is 1000 years old.

The architecture of the temple is a marvel. On a large rectangular structure, there are huge stone slabs arranged, and the bespoke Garbhagriha and Mandapa are rightly boasted about the architectural finesse.

Timings: 4:00 am – 9:00 pm

Address: Kedarnath, Uttarakhand 246445

Mahasu Devta Temple:

Mahasu Devta Temple is situated in a famous village called Hanol that is settled on the banks of the Tons river in the Chakrata region. Unique as this name sounds, the question would be there around it. So, the temple is believed to be named after Brahmin Huna Bhatt.

The village, apart from the temple, can be visited for the scenic beauty and touristy vibe it creates.

Timings: 6:00 AM – 8:00 PM

Address: Hanol, Uttarakhand 248199

Tungnath Temple:

Nested in the chilly and snowy Chandranath Parvat, Tungnath temple is the highest temple of Lord Shiva amongst the other Shiva temples in Uttarakhand as well as in the world as well as the "highest Panch Kedar temple" of the Uttarakhand District.

There are five Kedars of Panch Kedars; amongst them, Tungnath is third in the order. When it comes to the height of this historical temple in Uttarakhand, it is at an elevation of 3680 above sea level and about or more than 1000 years old, just like Kedarnath temple.

Timings: 6:00 am- 7:00 pm

Address: Rudraprayag, Uttarakhand 246419

Baleshwar Temple:

This temple in Uttarakhand is situated inside the city of Champawat, known by the name Baleshwar. This historical temple is a living memory of the Chand Dynasty, which is built to become an emblem of a temple made out of stone carving.

No written records are proving the exact time and century, but the belief is that the temple was built somewhere between 10-12 century A.D.

Timings: 9 AM to 11.30 AM and 5 PM to 8.30 PM.

Address: NH 125, Lohaghat Range, Champawat, Uttarakhand 262523
