

JHARKHAND MONUMENTS

Make my plan
We make it easy for you...

Monuments & Dams to be visited in Jharkhand...

1. Khandoli Dam, Giridih

Khandoli is one of the major tourist spots for adventure and bird lovers, located 10 km North-East of Giridih town. The lake is home to migratory birds and several other species local birds including Great cormorant and bar-headed goose.

2. Rock Garden, Ranchi

Rock Garden of Ranchi is a beautiful place of tourist attraction, situated at a distance of about 4 kms from Ranchi town. Ranchi Rock Garden is one of the top 5 fabulous rock gardens of India.

3. Hundru Falls, Ranchi

The Hundru waterfall in Ranchi is really a beautiful tourist destination and the 34th highest waterfall in India with total height of 98 metres (322 ft). Hundru Falls is created by Subarnarekha River and the fall is one of the highest water falls in the state of Jharkhand.

4. Tata Steel Zoological Park, Jamshedpur

Tata Steel Zoological Park also known as Tata Zoo is situated near the area of Jubilee Park and known for number of wild animals. Tata Zoo and Ranchi Zoo are two most famous wild animal parks in Jharkhand.

5. Palamu Fort, Jharkhand

Palamu Fort is one of the major archaeological monuments of the state belonging to the Mughal era, sometime around the mid-16th century, and lies within the core area of the Betla National Park. Also known as Purana Quila, the fort sits on top of a hillock and is spread over an area of 5 sq km. There is a debate about the origin of the fort, wherein some believe it is attributed to Raja Mansingh, a Rakshel ruler, and others are of the opinion that Raja Medini Rai of the Chero Dynasty built the fort.