

RAJASTHAN TEMPLES

MAKE MY PLAN

Let's make it easy

Mehandipur Balaji Temple:

No pilgrimage tour is complete without visiting the most famous temple in Rajasthan is Mehandipur Balaji Temple in Mehandipur. This Temple is dedicated to the Monkey God, Hanuman. Mehandipur Balaji Temple is especially known to eliminate evil spirits. You can find lots of exorcists at work. Ritual healing processes would be carried out by saints inside the temple. If you are up for some interesting time, this is the very best temple to pick.

Temple Timings: Open 24 hr

Temple Address: Balaji, Rajasthan, Maruti Nandan Wali Gali, Sharma Mishthan Bhandar Agra Rd, Mehandipur, Todabhim, Rajasthan 303303

Dress Code: there is no dress code for entering this temple

How to Reach: There is no straight train that reaches extremely next to the temple. The nearest railway station is the Bandikui railway station which is 36 km from the temple.

Best Time to Visit: Chaitra Purnima, Ashvin Purnima and also Hanuman Jayanti are excellent days to visit this temple.

Nearest Attraction: Chand Baori, Fort Madhogarh, Bhandarej

Sai Dham In Dausa:

Sai Dham is located at Rani in Pali district is a replica of the original Shirdi Sai Baba Temple. In the Marwar region, the temple is considered to be sacred as well as powerful. The idol of this Temple is made with snow-white marble. The divine being stands at 5.5 feet in height. Shri Chunilal Bakhtawar Mehta Charitable Trust in Mumbai constructed the temple. If you are searching for a calm experience, go to this Temple. Pick Thursdays to find interesting rituals and also activities inside the temple.

Temple Timings: Opening time 6:00 am and also shutting time: 9:00 pm

Temple Address: Jain Mohalla, Sainthal Dham, Dausa, Rajasthan

Dress Code: No dress code

How to Reach: There are regular buses from Vijayawada to Sai Dham Rani, Rajasthan.

Best Time to Visit: On every Thursdays, Havan is being performed by Vedic masters by utilizing spiritual incantations and concepts.

Visit Duration: 1 hr

Nearby Attraction: Jawai dam, Bangor museum,

Rani Sati Temple:

Rani Sati Temple in of Jhunjhunu district is the biggest Hindu temple in India committed to Rani Sati of the 13th century, who died due to self-immolation after her husband's death. She is also called as Narayani Devi. This temple does not hold any type of deity. There is a huge trident, which denotes power, force and also bravery. The Temple holds a large picture of Rani Sati. The Temple is made with marble and you can discover lots of wall paintings. Inside the complex, you can find Hanuman temple, Lord Shiva Temple, Lord Ganesh temple, Sita temple and also others. The temples are surrounded by a garden. An aarti is performed out at the temple two times a day, when in the morning and as soon as in the evening.

Temple Timings: Opening time 5:30 am and also shutting time: 10:30 pm

Temple Address: Karanpur, Jhunjhunu area, Rajasthan

Dress Code: No gown code

How to Reach: There are frequent buses from Jhunjhunu to Sati Temple, Rajasthan.

Best Time to Visit: On Navratri and also Karva Chauth.

Visit Duration: 1 hr

Nearby Attraction: Wind Royal Palace and also Khetri Mahal

Ambika Mata Temple:

Ambika Mata Temple is located in the town of Jagat near Udaipur and preserved by Archaeology and also Museum Department of Rajasthan. The temple is Palace known to as the Khajuraho of Mewar as a result of several great sculptures. This Temple is dedicated to Goddess Durga. The temple is located on a rock cleft and also it was built around 961 AD. This temple is also dedicated to Jainism. What inevitably capture the visitor's fancy are the sculptures, a feature that makes it quite different from the various other temples.

Temple Timings: Open up on all the times 6:00 am to 7:00 pm

Temple Address: Agat, Rajasthan 313905

Dress code: no specific dress code

How to Reach: The temple is located 58 km southeast of Udaipur and hence one can easily reach by local modes of transport.

Best Time to Go: Navratri is the very best time to see this temple.

Closest Attraction: Chandni town, Dharohar individual dance, Bagore Ki Haveli

Parshuram Temple:

Among the must-visit areas during your visit in Rajasthan is Parshuram Mahadev Temple in Pali. The Temple, which is dedicated to Lord Shiva, is located at the border of Pali and Rajsamand district. The Temple is called Amarnath cavern temple of Rajasthan, situated at 3,995 feet over water level. There are 500 staircases to reach down to the old cavern. Priest of this old Parshuram temple would inform the lots of stairs of the history as well as stairs the developments which are called 'Kamdhenu'.

Temple Timings: Open on all days from 5:00 am till 09:00 pm in the night

Temple Address: Pali area, Rajasthan 306401

Dress Code: No particular dress code but ethnic as well as decent dress preferred.

How to Reach: Parshuram Temple is lies in the Rajsamand area in the Kumbhalgarh and 98 kilometers from Udaipur. One can conveniently reach her by bus, rail or taxi.

Best Time to Visit: The Temple hosts 2 fairs throughout the year during the event of Shravan Shukla Ashtami and also Saptami, which are typically kept in the months of August/September. It is seen by hundreds of supporters.

Local Tourist Attraction: Kumbhalgarh Fort

Ranakpur Jain Temple:

Ranakpur Jain Temple, situated almost 90 kilometers from the city of Udaipur, is a spectacular sight ahead across. It covers an area of 48,000 sq. ft, with its design being a brilliant amalgamation of size as well as aesthetics. Jain temples in Ranakpur are dedicated to Lord Adinath, Jains' initial Tirthankar. 4 temples, 29 magnificent pillared halls, and 80 domes supported by 1444 columns are peculiarities of this temple facility. A 6ft tall statue of Lord Adinath (the very first Tirthankara in Jain history) is also a major attraction inside the temple, which sits gracefully under the largest spire of the primary Temple facility.

Temple Timings: Open on all days from 12:00 am till 05:00 pm in the night

Temple Address: Ranakpur, Rajasthan, India

Dress Code: No dress code

How to Reach: The local flight terminal to Ranakpur Jain Temple is Maharana Pratap Airport and also has to do with 108 kilometers from the temple while the local railway terminal to Ranakpur Jain temple is Falna train terminal and is just 34.7 km away. Travelers can conveniently reach the destination from both the places by hiring any kind of public transportation like a personal taxicab, bus or taxi.

Nearby Destination: Surya Temple, Chaumukha Temple, Parshvanath Temple, and Amba Mata Temple

Akshardham Temple:

Narayan or Lord Vishnu and also is renowned for its stunning style as well as cultural heritage. The walls of the Temple are covered with beautiful paints, sculptures, carvings and also mantras that encourage the visitors as well as fill them with confidence and also positive. This temple is famous for its impressive idolizers, carvings, and sculptures. It is dedicated to Lord Narayan and also is renowned for its rich eco-friendly location. Akshardham temple provides the genuine real of Indian architecture, cultural heritage and also sculptures of Hindu gods to the visitors.

Temple Timings: Shift timings are there. In the early morning- 07:30 am to 12:00 am and also in the evening at 4:00 pm to 8:00 pm. The temple opens all the times except Mondays.

Temple Address: Akshardham Mandir, Vaishali Nagar, Chitrakoot, Jaipur, Rajasthan-302021

How to Reach: Akshardham Temple is located in the central region of Jaipur and can be accessed easily by roadways via Ajmer Road, Hawa Sadak or the Delhi Agra Bypass Road. Public transport can be utilized to reach the attraction. Buses and auto rickshaws are easily available from any part of the city.

Best Time to Visit: The best time to check out Akshardham Temple in Jaipur is in between the months of October and February, which mark the winter season in Rajasthan

Charbhuja Temple :

Meerabai Temple:

Chittorgarh is the area where Meera Bai was born who was a Rajput princess and is also being well known as a poetess as well as a saint. It is the only Temple devoted to Meera Bai, a Rajput princess who gave up her royal life and also dedicated her life to Lord Krishna. The Meera Temple Chittorgarh was built throughout Rana Kumbha's reign. The visit to the Meera Tempel will also allow you to find out about different significant historical facts. You will learn Rajput's disposition in the direction of Hinduism.

Timings: 9.45 AM to 6 PM

Entry Cost: situated inside the fort complex

Fort Entry Fee: Rs. 15 for Indian and Rs. 200 for Foreigner

How to Reach: At a distance of 350 m from Kumbha Royal residence and also 6 km from Chittorgarh Railway Station, Kumbha Shyam Temple is a Hindu temple situated inside Chittorgarh Fort. It is among the popular Temples in Chittorgarh Fort Complex and Complex one of the top areas to check out in Chittorgarh.

Vedi Temple:

Vedi Temple is located near to the Hanuman Pol of the Kumbhalgarh Fort. This Jain Temple was constructed by Rana Kumbha to honor the sacrifice of the pilgrims. The structure of the Temple was later renovated by Maharana Fateh Singh. This temple is considered to be the only remnant amongst all sacrificial areas in the country. The UNESCO world heritage is a great tourist attraction to all, as one reaches delight in the impressive architecture of the fort and also pay respects to the pilgrim-sacrifice site built within the Vedi Temple. The temple is elevated on a high platform and also faces the west.

Temple Timings: The temple is open from 8am-6pm all the times, including weekends and also public holidays.

Entry Costs: Visitors are charged with a nominal fee to enter the premises of the Kumbhalgarh fort. However, there is no entrance fee for paying a visit to the Vedi Temple or Vedi Complex situated next to the Hanuman Pol.